KRAZY KAT "MILK MADE"

Produced by Charles B. Mintz Distributed by Paramount

An alarm clock goes off and awakens Krazy Kat in the wee hours of the morning. He gets dressed and goes out to the barn and milks the cow. He puts the milk on his wagon and is off with deliveries.

He leaves the cart on the street while he goes to deliver several bottles. A mysterious character, who is being followed by a revenue agent, empties the barrel he had been carrying in the cans of milk on the cart. Krazy Kat delivers more milk and these customers all come back for more. He does not know what is the cause of his increased sales until he sniffs the milk and sees his customers reeling around.

The revenue agent, who had been watching, puts the feline under arrest. Krazy Kat whips his horse and dashes off in the wagon, the agent following in a flivver. He shoots a hole in one of the cans and it leaks. The flivver coming upon the leakage, sniffs it and guzzles it up and becomes drunk. The agent shoots at Krazy Kat's wagon and ruins it. Krazy Kat throws it at him and runs away.

Krazy Kat puts his money down and while he turns around, a goat eats it all up and the Kat seeing this, faints.
